About ACCP

As the demand for patient-centered care and clinical pharmacy grew across Asia, so did the need for a platform to share knowledge. This vision began in 1996, when leaders from China, Korea, Japan, and the USA conceived a forum for practical exchange.

The journey started humbly in 1997 with the first conference (originally EACDCPPE) held in the USA, attended by just 36 representatives. By 1999, the second meeting in Shanghai highlighted the unique developmental needs of Asian pharmacy practice compared to the West.

A pivotal transformation occurred in 2003 in Japan, where the event was rebranded as the Asian Conference on Clinical Pharmacy (ACCP). This marked a new era of expansion, welcoming nations like the Philippines, Indonesia, and Singapore. Recognizing the explosive growth of the profession, members at the 2005 Malaysia conference voted to move from biennial to annual meetings, ensuring continuous collaboration for a sustainable future.

Thailand has proudly served as a hub for global pharmacy advancements, having hosted the 6th ACCP in 2006 (Globalization of Clinical Pharmacy: East and West Collaborations) and the 15th ACCP in 2015 (Advancing Clinical Pharmacy Practice and Education toward Patient-Centered Care).

Now, we are honored to welcome the world back for a third time. In 2026, Thailand will host the 25th ACCP in the vib rant city of Bangkok under the visionary theme: "Borderless Pharmacy Practice: The Collaboration for Sustainability and Cultural Integration."

We invite you to immerse yourself in the dynamic and diverse culture of Bangkok, a city where tradition meets modernity. Beyond the cultural experience, this conference is a vital platform to:

- Share distinct clinical experiences regarding patient care from around the globe.
- Present groundbreaking research that drives the evolution of clinical pharmacy.
- Collaborate across borders to create sustainable healthcare solutions.

Join us as we bridge cultures and knowledge to shape the future of our profession.
